Sly C.Y. Pulls Off Shrewd Tax Deal

Jaycee Flag Service Available

With only a little over a week remaining before July 4, Canyon Jaycees want to remind Canyon merchants that they have a flag service available, according to Chan Foster, club member.

Foster said the club furnishes flags and mounting brackets, in addition to maintaining all equipment.

Cost for this service is $12 the first year and $8 a year thereafter.

There are five established holidays each year when the flags are flown and Foster said that they are placed out on any other occasion brought to the club's attention.

Anyone who is not now taking advantage of this service can call the Jaycee office at OLS-3831, Foster added.

Proceeds help finance Jaycee projects throughout the year.

Reports on the little league games will be carried in the Canyon News when game reports are turned in to the News Office.

This week forms were left in the scoring booth so that team coaches can fill them out and bring them by the paper.

BOSS THOMPSON?

(An Editorial)

Editor Tommy Thompson of Amarillo is continuing his one-sided vendetta against Judge Wayland Angel of Canyon.

From reliable sources we heard that Tommy instructed a reporter to include some unflattering remarks about Judge Angel in a story in The Globe-Times one day last week . . . remarks which added nothing to the factual content of the story.

Judge Angel has been the helpless victim of a running attack by the Amarillo editor for several months now. I have personally asked Tommy what he has against Judge Angel. Thompson did not put his finger on one specific shortcoming except that he contends that Judge Angel is not qualified to be county judge primarily because he is not an attorney.

We might add that Thompson (in so far as we have been able to learn) is not a graduate of a journalism school. We understand that Tommy was a teacher before he entered the newspaper profession. Does this disqualify him to be an editor?

Apparently Thompson does not consider the lack of a law degree to be a shortcoming in the case of Judge Bill Adams of Potter County.

Could it be that Thompson, having conquered the field of journalism, is now in quest of political power? We think this might be a possible answer for the continued mistreatment of Judge Angel at the hands of the powerful Amarillo newspaper.

Could it be possible that Judge Angel would receive a better press if he were to take more "advice" from that fountainhead of knowledge at Ninth and Harrison in Amarillo. Thompson once made a statement that one of the reasons he backed Attorney General Will Wilson in the late senate race was because Wilson accepted "advice."

When Thompson can show us some malfeasance in office on the part of Angel, we too will be ready to take up the cudgel. Until that time, Judge Angel deserves as fair, unbiased and courteous treatment in Thompson's newspaper as Thompson would expect to receive should he ever appear in Judge Angel's court.

Johnson Quits "Source" Stand

C.Y. Johnson last week pulled off what colleagues hailed as one of the shrewdest deals of his 12-year career as a Randall County Commissioner.

Johnson reversed his field, called for and got a split of North Randall County road and bridge fund on a road mileage basis instead of on a "source of income" basis as he had previously advocated for the county as a whole.

Earlier this year the county road and bridge fund had been split 56-44 between the north and south portions of the county.

The larger percentage went to the two northern precincts. These two precincts are Precinct One and Four. Johnson is commissioner of Precinct Four and Jones is commissioner of Precinct One.

Johnson's precinct received a 50-50 share of the county road and bridge fund allocated to the two northern precincts, in spite of the fact that Jones' precinct appears to be far and away the greater source of income.

"It was his (Jones') proposition," Johnson declared blandly Monday. "Getting to him was the farthest thing from my mind."

County officials here pointed out that there is almost twice as much pipeline in Jones' precinct as in Johnson's. There is considerable rail in Precinct One and none in Johnson's precinct.

Also there is considerably more industry in Jones' precinct than in Johnson's.

Some big tax payers located in Precinct One include Cooper Homes, Borden's, AG Grocery warehouses, Safeway warehouses, Morrow-Thomas Hardware and some elevators along the railroad to name a few. Johnson's precinct has a lion's share of the county's irrigated farm land.

Both Jones and Johnson indicated that they relied heavily upon road mileage—a factor they spurned earlier—in making the split.

Commissioner Clarence Beckman of Precinct Two earlier this year had proposed that the entire road and bridge fund be allocated on a road mileage basis. Johnson turned the proposal down at that time.

Jones said that he and Johnson considered population and road mileage. He said road mileage in Precincts One and Four are almost identical. Precinct One has 186 miles of county roads and Precinct Four has 187 miles, he reported.

"There's no way of evaluating sources," Jones declared when asked about that factor in making the split between the two northern precincts. "We just guesstimated on that," he said.

Johnson earlier in the year proposed that the road and bridge fund be divided on a "tax source basis." Jones seconded this motion, but the motion did not carry because County Judge Wayland Angel cast a dissenting vote lining up with Commissioners Beckman and Glenn Dowlen.

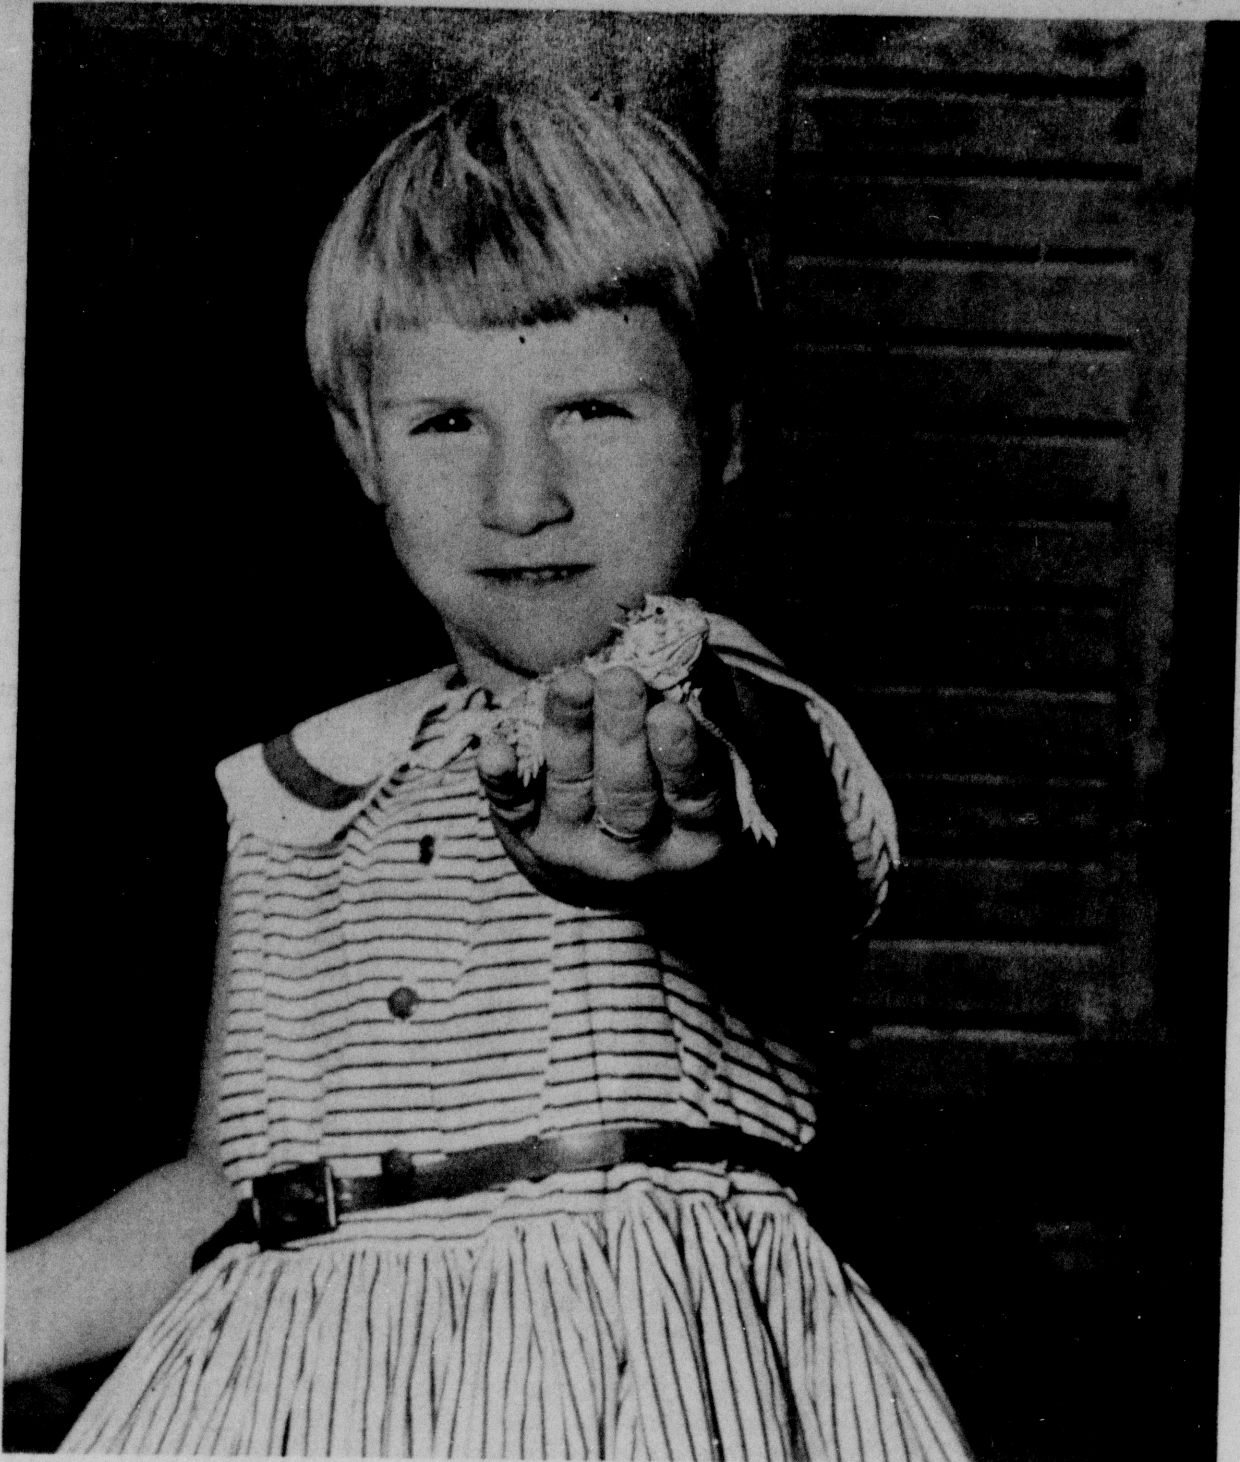

In giving a reason for vetoing Johnson's proposal, Angel said he could not conscientiously vote for any measure which is not definite.

Johnson did not give any figures with his motion.

Last Friday County Tax Assessor Bill Money said source of the road and bridge fund breaks down to probably 55 percent coming from the two northern precincts and 45 percent coming from the south. He qualified this statement by saying that it is only an approximation.

Orville Henry, his deputy, agreed with the figures and said it would take an accounting of the tax roll to give a definite answer.

Beckman and Dowlen split their 44 percent of the fund on a road mileage basis as they both had advocated all along.

Lions Carnival Opens At Grade School Mon.

Canyon Lions are making last minute preparations for their annual carnival which opens Monday at the elementary school.

The carnival will run through Saturday.

An added attraction, a horned toad race, will be featured this year. Clark Jarnagin, who is in charge of the race, said more frogs are needed and he is paying 10 cents each for all brought to his office.

In addition to the regular carnival rides, there will be a midway featuring games and skill feats.

Last year the carnival was held on the courthouse square but the new location allows more room for a bigger and better carnival. Bob Darnell, Lions Club member, is special chairman of the carnival committee. Proceeds from the carnival will go toward several Lions Club projects. These projects are both local and statewide.

This past year the club has contributed to the program for the blind and donated money for maintenance of the children's camp at Kerrville.

Local projects have included improvements at the city park, glasses for several school children and support of the hearing survey taken this spring in the Canyon schools.

E-way Tree Stops Car

James Fredrick Goding, 26, was hospitalized for treatment at Neblett Hospital following a one-car accident on the expressway four miles north of town Friday just after midnight.

He was reportedly treated for a "slight brain concussion."

Highway patrolman investigating the accident said Goding was traveling south and his late model Chevrolet left the road and struck some trees growing in the center of the expressway.

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $2500.

A LaGrone ambulance carried him to the hospital.

Jaycees Making Another Attempt for Fish Rodeo

Canyon Jaycees are planning their fish rodeo for this Saturday, according to Delbert Turk, of the fish rodeo directors.

Turk said the event has been scheduled twice in the past but postponed both times due to rainy weather.

"It was either too wet or the creek was murky," Turk said.

But it all goes well between now and Saturday Turk said the rodeo would take place at the Doug Rittenberry farm at 12:30 p.m. that day.

The farm is located one and one-fourth miles north of the Hereford highway on Canyon City Club road. Signs along the road will direct the way.

Turk said there will also be a pickup service operating from the north courthouse lawn. Anyone needing a ride should be there by 12:30 p.m. Turk pointed out.

Actual fishing will take place from 1 until 6 p.m.

Serving with Turk this year as co-director is Richard Pruet. Judges of the event will be Turk, Pruet, Bob Wilkinson and Doug Rittenberry.

The contest is broken down into two divisions. One will be for a 9-year-old and younger group and the other is for those between the ages of 9 and 14.

Turk said prizes in each group will be given for the largest catfish, largest perch and the largest string of fish.

All prizes have been donated by Canyon merchants.

Infant Interred Tuesday

Graveside rites were held Tuesday at 4 p.m. at Dreamland Cemetery for Kenton Joseph Hooper, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hooper of 2517 9th Avenue, the Rev. Strauss Atkinson officiating.

The infant was born Monday morning at Neblett Hospital and died there that night.

Survivors include the parents; one brother, Kelly Scott; one sister, Leah Catherine; and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. T.H. Hooper and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turner, all of Borger.

The father is assistant business manager at West Texas State College.

LaGrone Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

County Purchases Car For Sheriff's Office

County commissioners voted to buy a Ford automobile for the sheriff's department pending approval of the sheriff at Monday's meeting of commissioners' court.

In other business commissioners heard a Mr. Thomas in regard to fireproofing the courthouse.

"The wood attic in the main building is a fire trap," he pointed out to commissioners.

Cost for the job would be $1440. He said that the county would receive 15 percent credit on the building insurance if the job were done.

He said that once the building has been treated it would have a permanent protection.

"As long as the chemicals are used inside they have a permanent effect, but outside weather will cause them to break down," he explained.

Lions Club Needs Frogs

Clark Jarnagin has offered a reward of 10 cents for each live horned toad brought to his office this week.

Jarnagin is collecting the toads for the Lions Club carnival next week. There will be a horned toad race at the carnival.

"We want toads that are of average size," Jarnagin said. "They will have to be big enough to wear a number on the back."

Pennington Attending Tech School

Phil Pennington is one of thirty-one teenagers enrolled in a month-long special summer physics program now in session on the Texas Tech campus at Lubbock.

Selected from 107 applicants, the 31 students are taking intensive classes in classical and modern physics. The program is sponsored at Tech under a $6,565 National Science Foundation grant to encourage talented teenagers to study in the sciences.

Half of each morning session is devoted to a lecture in classical physics. The remaining morning session is devoted to modern theory dealing with radioactivity, spectra and quantitative physics. Afternoon sessions are devoted to laboratory experiment work.

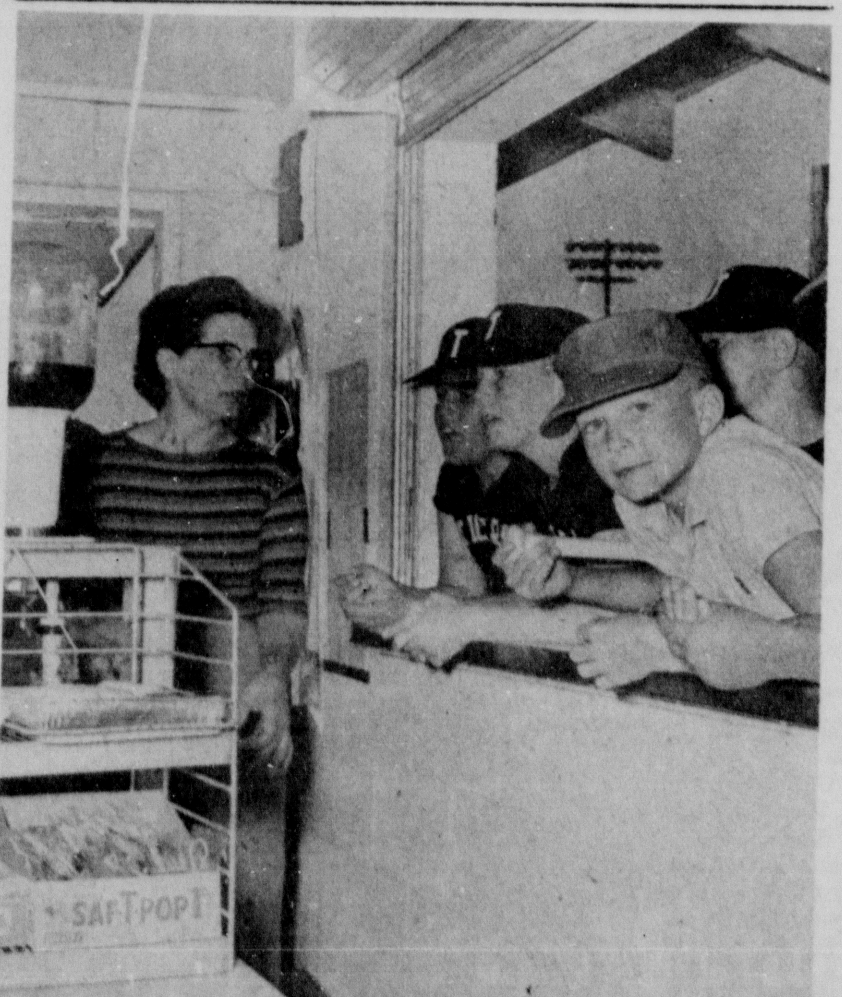

The program will continue through July 8.

Chamber Revises Booklet

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce now has a revised booklet about the city and county available.

Roland Black, chamber manager, said population figures and some others had to be changed.

Also some new photos have been used, including aerial shots of the city and college. Black said anyone desiring a copy can come by the Chamber office.

CONCESSION STAND at the Little League field helps support the summer program. Above, Mrs. Jack Hughes is shown working in the stand. All help is on a voluntary basis.

C.Y. Johnson is about as sly a politician as we've seen in these parts in a long, long time.

If Johnson has the ties with the powerful Amarillo Globe-Times that he seems to have, then his chances of becoming Tommy Thompson's Randall County satrap are excellent.

Sly C.Y.'s latest move has the rest of the court house here sniggering.

C.Y. vehemently advocated a "tax source basis" as the dominant factor in splitting the county's road and bridge fund. Through this maneuvering he came up with the lion's share for the two northern precincts, his precinct Four and B.R. Jones' Precinct One.

Then he reversed his field for a split with Jones on a county road mileage basis. Johnson got half of the 56 percent of the county's fund allotted to the two northern precincts. This was in spite of the fact that Precinct One probably is blessed with more "source of income" than any other precinct in the county.

Now the thing that makes the whole deal amusing is the fact that it was Johnson who earlier refused to split the road and bridge fund on a county road mileage basis. It was Jones who backed him up on this position.

We called Tommy Thompson's attention to tax inequities in Potter County in our issue of May 11. We pointed out that Potter County ranching interests are bearing little—almost none—of the tax load in that county.

Tommy has chosen to ignore this information. Of course we can understand that if Tommy opens up on this score he will be up against some powerful people who own the land in question.

It's a lot easier to kick someone like Wayland Angel who is powerless to kick back.

The powerful Amarillo afternoon paper has done a lot of bleeding about roads in Randall County—especially the South Loop.

We'd like to point out that Randall County has a whole of a lot better roads than Potter County.

The Canyon News has no oil interests to defend, no rich friends to protect, no political ambitions to achieve and makes no effort to appeal to a silk-stocking trade. We are dedicated to the truth as we find it. Our first obligation is to the people who plunk down three dollars for an unbiased version of the news as it unfolds in Canyon and Randall County. We shall strive to discharge that obligation to the very best of our ability.

Hilltop Views

BY DR. J. A. HILL

This nation-wide crime situation worries me no little, as it must all law-abiding liberty-loving people. In case of war it could be the difference. But war or no war it imperils the safety and happiness of all of us. Not a week, hardly a day, passes that the newspapers do not emblazon dastardly deeds of one kind or another in all parts of the country. Life and property are being destroyed at an alarming rate, treachery to our country is rampant, and indignities of the worst kind are being heaped upon defenseless citizens.

I am not a pessimist, but I am a realist. It is my conviction that all who love this country shall solemnly face the facts and do his best to remedy this tremendously damaging condition. Often we hear the comment: "Oh, yes, things are getting badly out of hand, but what can I do about it?"

The question is pertinent. Without professing to be a social therapist I dare submit the following procedures:

1. Let each of us sit down before a mirror, look himself squarely in the eye, and ask himself if he is in truth a complete law-abiding citizen. To make it personal let him ask himself: "Do I scrupulously obey all laws, local, state, and national?" I am afraid an honest answer to that question would convict 90 percent of us. Think of our traffic laws, our liquor laws, our gambling laws, our tax laws, our laws that seek to restrain mal-practice in business, and many other laws. If an honest-to-God investigation of myself convicts me on any of these questions I am a violator of the law. I am contributing to the lawlessness that threatens my country. I am co-operating with the enemies of this nation. I am helping to prepare the seed-bed for communism. That "everybody is doing it" is no justification. Let's take one illustration. The violation of our traffic laws day by day takes a toll of life and property that is truly staggering. We wouldn't stand for it at all if anybody but ourselves were doing it.

Look at the crime and cost of the liquor traffic—a deadly enemy to the best in American life. No reasonable person can deny its evil effects upon American life; and yet a majority of our people go on supporting it through its purchase and use. It is not denied that many good people are doing it; and there is one of the troubles. Some one has wisely said that "the bad example of good people does more harm than the bad example of bad people."

2. Let us cultivate a public opinion that strongly frowns upon all forms and degrees of law violation. Let us teach in our homes, in our schools, in our churches, in our civic clubs, and elsewhere that respect for and obedience to law is essential to the maintenance of free government. It is just that important and let everyone who values his safety, social decency, and a law-abiding society stand up and be counted. This pussy-footing for fear we will hurt our business is a form of cowardice. I would rather my business would be hurt than my self-respect.

3. Let us inform our public officials, from constables to President, that we want a clear and courageous government: that we demand a nation-wide war against crime at all levels; and we pledge our public servants our unreserved co-operation in its suppression. We commend heartily the FBI and its great leader, J. Edgar Hoover—one of America's greatest citizens.

This country can yet be saved, but those of us who love it are going to have to fight for it at home as well as abroad.

Amarillo Man Hospitalized

James Rawlins of Amarillo was hospitalized there for injuries sustained in a one-car accident on the expressway Tuesday afternoon, according to highway patrolmen investigating the wreck.

Rawlins was traveling south on the e-way when his late model Chevrolet swerved into a station at the Hollywood Road overpass.

Patrolmen said he received chest injuries and lacerations about the face.

One patrolman said it was Rawlins' second wreck for the day.

The car was estimated at a total loss.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by JOHN BRAZZILL

Weeds are doing well since the recent rains. Each year considerable damage is done to crops, shrubs, trees, and flowers by the careless use of weed killers such as 2-4-D. Last year many fields of cotton received small to damaging doses of herbicides. Cotton growers are most anxious to see careless uses curtailed. At this time the state herbicide law regulating the use of hormone type herbicides is not in force in Randall County. If damage is reported this year the law could be extended and the use of these good but dangerous weed killers could be strictly controlled.

For a few tips on the safe use of herbicides the following recommendations are given:

Use course spray nozzles with reduced pressure; a 20 pound pressure is good. Use Amine or salt base formulations and avoid the highly volatile esters. Spray when the wind is less than 10 miles per hour. Make a survey of susceptible crops in your area before applying 2-4-D. If you have a custom applicator do the job for you be sure he is bonded. Advise him of the cotton and other susceptible crops in the vicinity. Advise against using volatile ester forms, and keep a record of applicator, date applied, formulation used, wind direction and velocity and crops sprayed.

Refunds for the 4 cents per gallon federal tax on gasoline used on the farm can be claimed, beginning July 1. This refund can be claimed on gasoline used in the previous 12-month period. If you do not have a claim card to use you may pick up one at my office in the courthouse. Gasoline used on farms by custom operators can be claimed by the owner of the farm but not by the custom operator. Adequate records or proof should be secured from the custom operator to back up any claim.

Recent news release from the Department of Agriculture shows that 80 percent of all the counties in the United States are now certified brucellosis free. Brucellosis is the ancient disease of cattle and contagious to other animals and to humans. Texas began a clean-up program two years ago and now many Texas counties are certified free of brucellosis. Several Panhandle Counties are included. Severe restrictions on cattle movements are already beginning to be noted from counties not certified. Randall County is not among those counties having a brucellosis eradication program. Before this can happen the cattle owners must ask for and back up an intensive clean-up program.

Galaxie styling is inspiring more admiration (and imitation) than any other car on the road!

This is Galaxie styling—inspired by the fabulous Thunderbird! Many cars have tried to copy the incomparably beautiful 1961 Galaxie. No car has succeeded.

Dr. Roy Boger, director of the evening school at West Texas State College, brought out some interesting facts concerning employment at Friday's meeting of the Kiwanis Club.

Dr. Boger told the group that the reason given in two-thirds of the cases of persons dismissed from jobs is that they can't get along with other persons.

He added that many people feel that their personality cannot be changed after maturity. "That's not so," he said. "I would say that 90 percent of the people with personality defects can discover and change these faults."

"People who feel that they do not need to change their personality believe they have developed theirs to the maximum," he ventured. "No one has ever developed his personality to the limit."

Dr. Boger gave three steps in improving personality.

"Take an inventory of the facts, face them, then do something about them," he said. In conclusion he said that the ability to get along with people often depends on the ability to smile.

"And if you happen to find someone to weary to smile, leave him one of yours."

Clarence Beckman of Umbarger said they had quite a lightning storm out his way Wednesday night. He said that much of the wiring in the new telephone installation there was melted and one man lost a steer.

Pete Cowart, manager of Palo Duro State Park, says there is a new trend in American vacations.

Instead of the expensive stays at lodges, dude ranches and the like, many people are taking camping trips.

"We had a doctor's family stop at the gate the other day," Cowart reports, "and he said his family has been touring the Southwest via camping trips for the past several years."

Pete said the park is averaging 10 or 12 campers per day.

Players' Mothers Operate Baseball Concession Stand

Anyone who hears a young fellow yell, "Make that hot dog fat," or "I want that pink cup cake, the biggest one," is well paid for volunteer labor at the Little League concession stand. Approximately 220 Little Leaguers and 65 Babe Ruth players make baseball a sort of exciting recreation Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday night at the ball park during the summer.

And a ball game without eats just isn't as much fun as one that has a concession with volunteer mothers doing the soda jerking.

According to manager Clara B. Long, mothers are working in many capacities:

Mrs. Toni Rossi is co-manager, Mrs. Phillip Ormsby is chairman of volunteer labor.

One chairman is appointed for each of the teams and it is her responsibility to name two mothers to work during each game. Chairmen of the minor league teams are: Mrs. Arthur Fuston, Cubs; Mrs. H. B. Owen, Phillies; Mrs. Walter King, Indians; Mrs. Ed Sydoski, Tigers.

Babe Ruth league chairmen are Mrs. Bill Townsend, Giants; Mrs. Joe Richardson, Pirates; Mrs. Tom Lal, Cardinals; Mrs. Don Howard, White Sox.

The eight and nine-year-old team mothers are not organized for the concession stand as their teams play quite a distance away from the regular field.

Mrs. Long and two mothers from each of the minor teams open the concession at 5 p.m. each day and at 7 p.m. two mothers from each of the major teams come on duty and stay until 8:30 p.m. At that time two mothers from each of the Babe Ruth teams come and work and close up.

Bill Wilson Attends Corpus Christi Convo

W.A. "Bill" Wilson, justice of the peace, returned to work Tuesday following a five-day justice of the peace convention at Corpus Christi.

The convention was from Wednesday, June 14, through Sunday, June 18.

Wilson said approximately 250 justices of the peace and constables attended the annual meeting.

Highlighting the second day was a tour of King Ranch. Wilson said this tour included a stop at the main house and lecture on the ranch.

Friday's session headlined a boat tour of the port at Corpus Christi. It was a three-hour trip.

Business was conducted at the Saturday session and that evening the grand ball was held.

Sunday the group visited the naval air station, Padre Island, Port Aransas and then took a ferry trip to Aransas Pass for a fish fry and shrimp boil.

McCormick Named To OSU Honor Roll

Ballie J. McCormick a graduate student at Oklahoma State University at Stillwater the past semester, is one of 105 OSU students named to the president's list of Distinguished Students for the spring term.

The honor is accorded only those OSU students who make straight A's while carrying at least 15 hours of college credit, said Registrar Raymond Glrod.

tor. They returned home Monday.

We had more hail Monday afternoon with hail stones as large as hen eggs and only .20 of moisture.

Mrs. Woodrow Wesley and son, C. R., were shopping in Amarillo one day the past week.

Mrs. Joyce Lane and daughter Joy are vacationing this week.

Party Idea for the Venturesome Hostess

Summertime and party-time are synonymous words in a lot of vocabularies. If you entertain a great deal, in the same circle, it is quiet possible that your parties are beginning to repeat themselves.

A good hostess wants people to look forward to coming to her house for a party. Finding something new to intrigue constant guests isn't easy.

Here is a party idea that all though it isn't new, is seldom used in this area.

First let's go south and offer a party idea that will make your guests' mouths water. Try a Creole party. Decorations are simple. Fishing scenes and magnolia blossoms are the order of the evening. Invite your guests to come in burmuda shorts or beach combers. Play folk tunes on your hi-fi.

With your stage set serve your guests a tempting two dish meal, (actually either dish will make a meal in itself but the dishes are both so inviting your guests will probably want to sample both) Creole Gumbo and Shrimp Jambalaya.

Although classified as a soup, genuine gumbo is a meal in its-self, and most delicious and nourishing one. It takes time to prepare and more time to cook, but the results are worth the time involved.

Creole Gumbo is a triumph of artful blending of a number of what might be termed non-related and even supposedly clashing ingredients. In what other dish, for instance are ham, veal, chicken, oysters, shrimp and crabs made to join so harmoniously to produce a flavor almost impossible to describe? If you can procure the components of this magical dish, treat yourself to a feast you will never forget.

This recipe serves six.
2 lbs. fresh shrimp (if possible with the heads still on)
12 blue fin crabs
3 slices bacon
4 large onions, minced fine
4 cloves garlic, minced fine
2 bay leaves pepper
pinch of thyme
1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
salt and pepper to taste
2 lbs. fresh or frozen okra
1 large hambone
1/2 lb. chicken wings or same amount of left over chicken
1 lb. boneless stewing veal
1 heaping tablespoon lard
1/3 cup chopped parsley
1 large can tomatoes, or 4 large fresh tomatoes dipped in hot water and peeled

3 or 4 liberal dashes of tobasco sauce
4 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce juice of 1/2 lemon
1 pt. fresh oysters

Clean the shrimp. Don't cut them up. Put shells in water to boil. Drop live crabs (if you can get them) into boiling water and cook for five minutes--no longer. Clean by removing shells, "dead fingers" or lungs and entrails in the center. Break the bodies in half and twist of the fins. Scrape the shells and catch the juices and fats from the corners. This is very important for gumbo. Save the claws. (frozen crab may be used)

Fry bacon in a large pot until crisp, remove, set aside. Fry the onion until golden brown, add the minced garlic and fry until it is brown. Add bay leaves, green pepper, thyme, sugar, salt and pepper. Fry slowly until the green pepper is limp. Add the okra and continue cooking until the okra loses its gummy consistency. Put the hambone, chicken and veal to brown in another pot with the lard. When the meats and the onion mixture have both browned well, pour about half the excess grease from each and then combine the two.

Add chopped parsley, tomatoes, tobasco sauce, Worcestershire sauce and the lemon juice. Add the crab sections with juice, claws, shrimp, oysters, and bacon, and fill the pot with liquid from boiled shrimp shells, plus extra water, until the water covers the shrimp crab and meat well. At least 2 qts. of liquid are necessary.

Boil over a slow fire for at least 2 hours. Stir occasionally. Over cooking will never hurt Creole gumbo; it blends the flavors that much better. Remove the hambone and chicken bones just before serving. Serve over fluffy white rice, in soup plates.

If the gumbo doesn't make your guests think that you are the smartest cook alive the Jambalaya will. Jambalaya is an old standby in Creole cookery. The recipe is for shrimp jambalaya but fresh oysters may be substituted for the shrimp.

This serves 6 or 7.
3 tablespoons lard
2 onions, chopped fine
2 cloves garlic, chopped fine
1 slice (about 1/2 lb.) cured ham, diced
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
2 1/2 cups raw rice
1 lb. fresh or frozen cleaned, uncooked shrimp (or 1 pt. oysters)
2 bay leaves
1 sprig thyme
1 tablespoon chopped celery salt and pepper to taste
dash of cayenne pepper
1 tablespoon sugar

Melt the lard in a pot... preferably of heavy iron or aluminum...brown the onions and garlic, then add the ham. Let the ham saute with the onions and garlic for 5 minutes, then add the tomatoes and let cook for three minutes. Wash the rice thoroughly and place in the pot. Add the shrimp or oysters and the bay leaves, thyme, parsley, celery, and seasonings, and let cook slowly about 45 minutes. Salt and pepper to taste.

For the money spent, milk offers excellent returns in high quality protein, calcium, riboflavin, and other minerals and vitamins.

'I Never Seem To Get A Lot Accomplished'

"Interest? Well I'm Emilio's wife and my main interests lie in his work and the people that it brings us in contact with," says Mary Caballero.

"Me, I don't do much. I have a lot of interest, but I just never seem to get a lot accomplished" she says.

Mary Caballero was born in Lubbock. Her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. R.N. Ready live in Amarillo now. She is a graduate of Amarillo High School and attended Amarillo Junior College for two years.

"I met Emilio when we were going to AC. We married in 1941," Mary said.

It was before that that she became interested in writing. She does it now for a hobby. In high school she worked on the school paper.

She collaborated with Mrs. Ples Harper on a book of musical terms which has been published. Mrs. Harper arranged the dictionary and Mary did the illustrations. The book is for children, and is called "Meet Some Musical Terms." She and Mrs. Harper are working on two books now. One concerns the Religious heritage of America in its dress, architecture, music and symbols. The other is "Music Derived From the Dance."

The book on musical terms is in its second edition in the United States and has also been printed in Australia and New Zealand.

Mary worked with her husband, Dr. Emilio Caballero, on a Byzantine mosaic which is built into the Midland library. The mural is 9' x 3' and is the geographical history of the Midland area. She did background work on the mural. "I'm very versatile though. I don't have to stick to murals, she said. "I did the bathroom and kitchen floor in tile too."

"She is the equalizer in our household," says Dr. Caballero, "her greatest asset as far as I am concerned is her common sense and her depth of human insight. Of course the two go hand in hand."

Mary is a member of the Woman's Book Club and last year she was president of the Presbyterian Women's Church Circle.

She writes a weekly column for the Canyon News called "Keeping Up With the Arts."

She takes a great deal of interest in the affairs of the community and continually finding herself on one committee or another. At the present she and Dr. Caballero are interested in the Symphonic Drama organization.

Born and raised in the Panhandle she has traveled a great deal. During World War II she and Dr. Caballero lived in Alabama, Arizona and Louisiana.

They have two children Lou Ann, who is now Mrs. Gary Shell, and C. T. (Charles) who is 14.

"When Charles was five we dropped everything and went to New York so that Emilio could go to school. He had a fellowship to Columbia University. Later we went back for the same reason. Emilio was raised in New Jersey. Some how the idea of raising a family in the east didn't appeal to us. We came back here. We have lived in Canyon about 11 years with time out to live in New York twice. Our big dream now is to go to Spain when Charles gets out of high school. Emilio's mother lives there."

Artist, writer (who swears that some day she will find time to send her work to a publisher), wife, mother, and home decorator is quite a list of accomplishments for some one who never seems to get anything finished.

The Caballeros bought their home six years ago. Or as Mary says, "We bought the walls and the windows." From there on they were on their own.

"We had a good time doing it. Now we look back and wonder how we ever did it all and why we ever had the nerve to begin it in the beginning."

"Me? I have a lot of interest. I just never seem to get a lot accomplished." Well, that's what Mary says.

Carolyn Franklin Weds Larry Colvin In Ceremony Here Last Saturday

Wedding vows were solemnized between Carolyn Sue Franklin and Larry Earl Colvin in the First Baptist Church of Canyon last Saturday afternoon. Dr. Strauss Atkinson performed the double ring ceremony.

Carolyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Franklin. Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Colvin of Amarillo.

Lynne Larson, organist, played the traditional processional and recessional. She also played "Because," "O Perfect Love," "God Made You Mine," and "I Promise You." Treasure Brashure sang "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The altar was centered with a fan shaped arrangement of pink gladioli and summer mums. Arched candelabras holding lighted tapers flanked the altar. A background of greenery completed the scene.

Sharon Franklin, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a pink, brocaded sheath with matching slippers and a wedding ring hat. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink-beauty asters tied with matching streamers.

Jim Bob Hodge was the best man. Ushers were Oggie Fife and Ronald Osborne.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a ballerina length gown of white chiffon featuring a scoop neck. Her elbow length veil was held by a coronet of iridescent mock orange-blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis encircling a white orchid tied with streamers of white satin. The bride wore a family heirloom locket. The gold locket, over one hundred years old, belongs to her grandmother, Mrs. H. R. Franklin.

The wedding reception was held, following the ceremony, in the Fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was draped with a white linen cut work table cloth over pink satin, carrying out the bride's colors. On each side of the center piece of pink and white daisies were crystal candle sticks holding pink tapers. The three tiered cake, topped with a miniature wedding couple, completed the setting.

The couple is traveling to Denver, Colorado, and the surrounding area on their wedding trip. The bride traveled in a cherry-pink linen sheath with white accessories and an orchid from her bouquet. She wore pearls given to her by the groom.

Carolyn is a graduate of Canyon High School. Larry is a graduate of Amarillo High School and West Texas State College. He is currently employed at a paint store in Amarillo.

After today the couple will be at home at 1119 Travis in Amarillo.

The bride's mother wore a white eyelet suit lined with blue and white accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias. The groom's mother wore a blue linen sheath with white accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias and stephanotis.

Serving punch and cake were Mesdames Virginia Britt, cousin of the bride, and Gloria Smith, sister of the bride. Glenda Colvin, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests. Others assisting with courtesies at the reception were Mary Colvin, Judy Colvin, Mary Franklin, Mrs. Virgil Fryburger, Mrs. Murry Boston, Mrs. Enos Cataldi and Mrs. C.L. Bucannan. Joyce Franklin played background music for the reception.

Youths Attend Summer Camp

Young people from the First Christian church Canyon have been attending camps at Ceta Glen the last two weeks.

Those attending the High School Young Peoples Summer conference were Dorothy Ann Higdon, and Joy Harter.

Dorothy Ann graduated from a four-year summer conference course June 10, the closing day of the conference.

Joy Harter was elected vice-president of the Christian Youth Fellowship for District I. This position will qualify her to attend the State Youth Planning session which will meet in Fort Worth the first week of August.

The Junior High Youth attended Chi Rho camp at Ceta Glen June 12-17. Those attending from Canyon were Linda Coffman, Sharon Read, Ricky

Michael, Lorna Dunagan, Judy Hon, and Patsy Harter.

Rev. Dale M. Harter, pastor of the local Christian church, served as a counselor in both camps.

McWaters Given Shower

Mrs. Roger McWaters was feted at a post-wedding shower in the home of her aunt, Mrs. Hobart Moffitt, last Sunday.

The table was centered with an arrangement of white daisies. Fruit punch and heart shaped cookies were served.

Hostesses were Mrs. Hobart Moffitt, Millie Land, Ellen Faye Land, Mrs. Alva Simmons, Mrs. A.E. Ranson, Myrtle Reeves and Mrs. C.L. Johnson.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Elton Cox entertained her bridge club with a luncheon and bridge party Wednesday afternoon.

Becoming Cultural Hub

Canyon is rapidly becoming a cultural hub of the panhandle. This is not only remarkable, but almost unheard of for a town Canyon's size.

Even the advantage of having a college cannot explain the cultural development of Canyon. Other towns of this size that have colleges cannot boast the development that Canyon can.

Some of the credit will, of course, have to go to the college. Canyon has the only summer theater in this area. The Branding Iron Theater in the speech department of the West Texas State College presents a full summer schedule of plays for the area play goers.

Canyon has a community concert series each year that offers to the people of the area, a slate of the finest concert performers touring the country.

The foreign film series is a unique asset for a town of Canyon's population. Each year foreign films of the highest standard are offered to the area for nominal sums.

The credit for these advantages cannot be pinned down. It goes equally to all the people in the community who support the cultural developments. It also goes to the clubs and organizations of Canyon that are far-seeing enough to realize the benefits of such programs. An example of organizations that think ahead are the Chamber of Commerce and the Music Arts Club who have started the ball rolling on the symphonic drama program in the Palo Duro Canyons.

It is exciting and rewarding to live in a community of people who realize the benefits of such things as good music, good art and good drama.

A noted poet once said that knowledge was the food of the mind; bread was food for the body and the arts were food for the soul, and that a man was not fully whole unless all three parts of him were nourished equally.

The show will be presented by the Palo Duro Players. Bob Finnium will head the cast as the Brooklyn cowboy who becomes a television idol to millions of western fans.

The light musical farce is a family comedy concerning his struggle to keep the knowledge of his fear of animals, even cats, dogs, and rabbits, from his fans who believe he was raised in "the wide open spaces."

The plot is climaxed when he hires a psychology professor to hypnotize him into winning a bull-dogging contest at a rodeo.

Elaine Paul, who has just returned from a dance workshop at Texas Women's University, will direct the dances in the show. While at the workshop she studied under Ted Shawn and many other noted teachers of dance and movement.

Erin Wertenberger is designing the sets for the production. A majority of the scenes are played at a dude ranch.

Bridal Notes

BY PENNY COX

It has been discussed in this column what some of the proper points of etiquette are for the bride and groom. This week etiquette of the guests is in point.

When are you expected to send a gift and how soon do you send it? All wedding gifts are sent to the bride some two weeks or ten days before the wedding. Sending a gift at the last minute is a little disturbing to the conscientious bride. An invitation to a church wedding requires no acknowledgement, and no gift. An invitation to a reception following the ceremony does require a prompt acknowledgement and a gift. (This does not include the clergyman or the family physician). An acknowledgement should be handwritten on white note paper and the wording spaced as if engraved. A gift is not a required response to a wedding announcement. Guests sending gifts through the mail should be sure that they are adequately insured.

When should you arrive for the wedding? Guests should plan to arrive one half hour before the ceremony and should not come later than five minutes before the hour set for the wedding. Guests who arrive while the parents are being seated or afterwards are considered late and should go unescorted to the balcony or select a place for themselves at the back of the church.

Should you stand or sit during the service? Guests should plan to be alert to the example of the bride's mother as to standing or being seated during the ceremony. It is most rude for anyone to rise when the mother wishes to remain seated.

What about throwing rice? It is not thoughtful or in good taste to throw rice inside a church or other public building. Some even consider it a heathenish custom, and so it is much more considerate to use confetti or rose petals. Many consider it bad manners to decorate the bridal car or in any way interfere with the newly-weds' leaving.

What about the receiving line? Each guest should freely give his name to the first person in the line unless he is announced by a butler or a professional announcer. Guest should then proceed down the line shaking hands, but not pausing to carry on conversations. After extending best wishes to the bride and congratulations to the groom, the guest should shake hands with the brides maids. Relatives and very close friends may kiss the bride. Gentlemen never wear gloves, but women may wear gloves at the reception. All guests are expected to sign the guest book or register before leaving.

Engle-Addison Vows Read at Plains

Willie Mae Addison and Kenneth Clement Engle exchanged wedding vows in the First Baptist Church of Plains last Friday evening.

Rev. C. J. Coffman officiated at the double ring ceremony. Willie Mae is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Nathaniel Addison and Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Engle.

Mrs. Faye McConnel, organist, played the traditional wedding march and accompanied Mrs. Albert Ricketts of Hereford who sang "Whether Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The altar was decorated with an arch of greenery centered with a basket of white gladiolas. Candelabras with white tapers and baskets of white gladiolas flanked the center flowers.

The couple knelt on a white satin kneeling bench.

Matrons of honor were Velma Dearing and Thelma Lee Cheatham, sisters of the bride. Janelle Parks and Melba Ward were the bridesmaids.

Susan and Danny Carmichael of Friona were the candle-lighters.

Leon Cheatham of Plains was the best man. Groomsmen were Jimmy McBroon, Weldon Tuck and Carl Hollabaugh. Claude Addison and Clistins Addison were ushers.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Nathaniel Addison of Hico. She wore a floor length gown of white faille, featuring a chapel length train and a jacket of lace ending in petal point long sleeves. The choker neckline was accentuated with tiny pearls and pearl buttons. Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from a crown of pearlized lilies-of-the-valley. Her bouquet of white orchids surrounded by stephanotis was atop a white Bible.

The bride's attendants wore petal pink sheaths with pink crown hats and shoulder length veils. They carried sprays of pink carnations.

A reception was held in the church following the ceremony. The table was laid with ecru lace over pink. Settings were of crystal and silver. The three tiered cake was decorated with pink roses and silver leaves and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Bowls of pink roses decorated the reception room.

The couple is traveling to points in New Mexico and Colorado on their wedding trip. The bride traveled in a two piece suit featuring a pleated skirt and a short top. Her accessories were white and she wore an orchid corsage from the bridal bouquet. Her pearl necklace was a gift from the groom.

The bride is a graduate of Plains High School and West Texas State College and is a teacher in the Amarillo school system.

The groom is a graduate of Canyon High School and is attending West Texas State College.

KEEPING UP WITH THE ARTS

There will be numerous plays to attend at WT all summer. They will be announced as always in the Canyon News. It is a most pleasant opportunity to be able to see these "live" actors and escape from the TV and movies. Canyon is extremely lucky to have these special events for their entertainment. Be sure to attend when you can.

For a most interesting trip and one that is convenient for all to make, go to Hawbaker's Mule Barn, East on U.S. 66 on the way to Pampa. This visit to the land of rare antiques is something that everyone in the family would enjoy. It is like a museum and each item tells a story. Many hours can be spent in studying the old books, looking at the pictures and relics of another day. It is lots of fun. Each item can recall a lifetime of memories for most of the older people.

Remember to make the scenic drive from Claude to Silverton through the canyons. We really don't have to drive too many miles to have a vacation trip. This trip can be made to last a whole day and would be enjoyed by the whole family. A short trip can be restful to everyone and might be enjoyed more than a two weeks fishing rip where cooking and shooting flies becomes rather tiresome. This trip through the canyons is very lovely and you could make it a special treat for your family this summer.

A new book published by the Oxford University Press called "The Writer's Dilemma" is a collection of ten essays on present-day problems. "Lawrence Durrell mentions a choice that many modern authors are faced with. Should a writer 'add his mite to the flood of opinionation which is slopping over the world?' He impudently suggests 'a gaggle of artists round a table discussing the human crisis in our culture does not look very different from a Politburo of uncultivated and unshaven peasants discussing how to ameliorate the living standard of a backward province.'"

It appears to be a book that looks with extreme disfavor on the continuous printing of nothing but personal opinions in every type of printed matter.

Arnold Toynbee (who has recently been quizzed quite often of TV) says no matter how long we are conditioned by these opinions, "They will have failed to turn man into a 100 percent sheep or ant." In other words no matter how many groups seem to form, we can't be "herded" into all thinking alike.

A special issue of the Texas Quarterly published at the University of Texas will be

"Image of Spain". It is dedicated to contemporary letter, art and thought in Spain. Much thought and planning has gone into making this an exciting issue.

From NY comes this helpful hint to entertain children..... "If a child must remain indoors, painting a self-portrait can be an afternoon's fun.

Tear off a length of shelf paper as tall as the child. Fasten it to the wall. Get out his paint box (or tempera color jars) and give him some cotton swabs to use as little paint brushes. Have him try to draw a self-portrait. Usually it takes hours! (I think this would be fun for adults, too.)

Art Oddity For The Week.....

It seems that I put this in one time in another column, but it still is quite amazing to think about..... "If you're one of those individuals fascinated by TV commercials and billboard advertising you'll really appreciate the latest efforts in visual selling. A new type of advertising will project pictures on buildings, clouds and your favorite mountain. The apparatus will enlarge a small slide so that it can be viewed five miles away."

Peggy Hales Wins Scholarship

Peggy Sue Hales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vern Hales of Canyon, won second place in the newspaper scholarship program of the West Texas Press Association for the coming year.

Announcement of the winners was made Thursday by Jimmy Allison, WTPA president.

First place was won by Eugene Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Young of Seagraves, who receives a $600 scholarship which extends over a period of four years (or $150 a year). The committee decided that the two runners-up would fill out the remaining time left by two previous scholarship winners who had to withdraw.

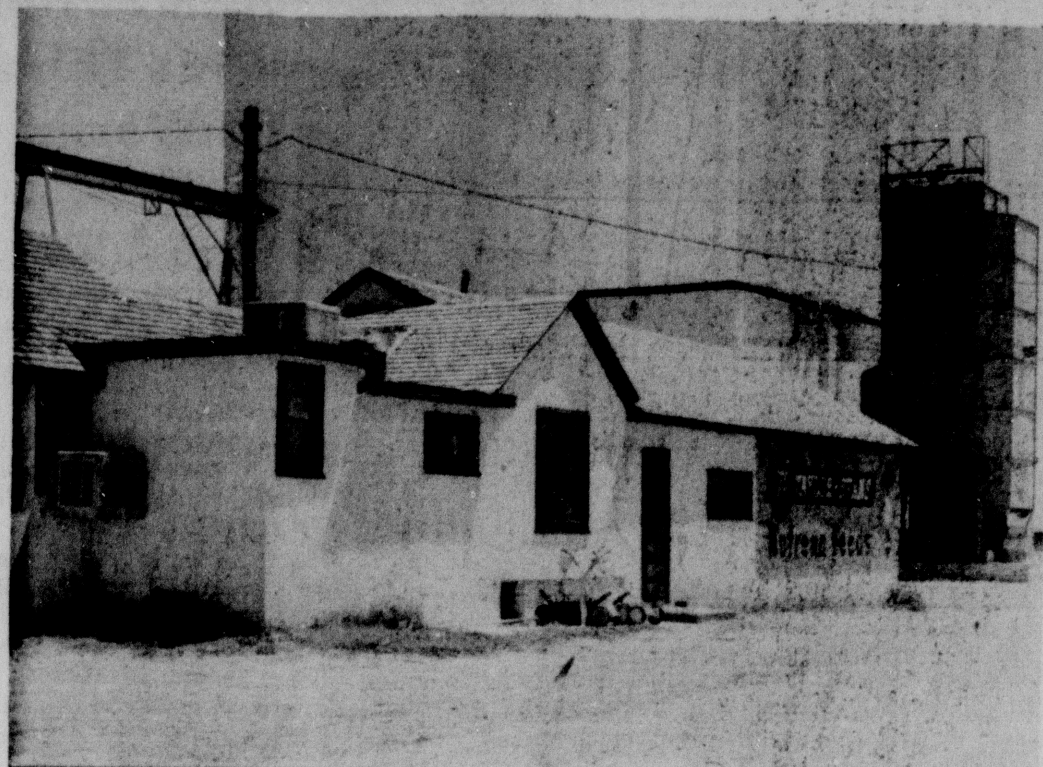

Peggy Sue came in second and Carolyn English, daughter of Mrs. Madeline English of Lubbock, was third. Peggy Sue plans to enter West Texas State College and Carolyn, Texas Tech.

WEAVERS GO TO CALIFORNIA

Mrs. D. R. Weaver and Vicki left Wednesday to visit relatives in Los Angeles.

The pair will visit Disneyland, Marine land, Catalina Island and Hollywood studios.

After a three-week stay on the coast they will return to Canyon by air.

Working on a program exchange basis, the Amarillo Rotary Club presented Guyon Saunders Jr., as the speaker for the Tuesday luncheon of the Canyon Rotary Club.

Saunders' talk was based on the Rotary publication, "Seven Paths to Peace," which is the result of an extensive questionnaire which was sent to Rotarians all over the world several years ago.

The "paths" pointed out in this book represent the consensus of opinions of international Rotarians.

The seven paths were patriotism, conciliation, freedom, progress, justice, sacrifice and loyalty.

He also pointed out that peace will come only through positive effort of people of the world. In his words, "We must wage peace as surely as we have waged war."

Walker Horse Wins Third At Ft. Worth

A horse owned by Bill Walker, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Walker, placed third in a field of 61 at the 14th National Apaloosa Show held last week in Fort Worth.

Jamboree was shown for Walker by Dale E. Martin of Canyon.

Cancer Society Names Officers for Next Year

Officers for the coming year were named at the annual meeting of the Randall County unit of the American Cancer Society Thursday at the Fine Arts building.

Dr. Thomas MacOwan was elected president. Vice-president is Mrs. Jim Fletcher; Mrs. R.B. Gist Jr., secretary; and James Cole, treasurer.

There were reports from standing committee chairmen.

Dr. MacOwan, in his report as crusade chairman, says that the crusade has netted a total of $2,299.57. He said it represents the cooperative work of approximately 100 volunteer workers and district chairmen.

Speaker for the evening was Dr. A.B. Goldston, Amarillo physician.

Dr. Goldston told the group that 250,000 presently die annually from cancer.

"We are now curing one out of three cases and we are capable of curing one out of two," he said.

Dr. Goldston attributed this to the delay in treatment of cases.

"Some people, even though they suspect cancer, will not come in for an examination," he said. Most persons wait an average of nine months before going to a doctor after symptoms show.

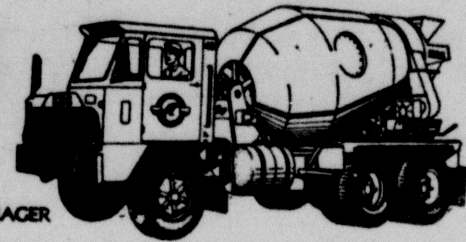

"Then it is usually four more months before definite steps are taken."

He then showed slides illustrating different parts of the body affected by cancer.
